Flag of Ireland - Irish Tricolour

A vertical tricolour of green, white, and orange. Green representing the Gaelic tradition of Ireland, orange representing the followers of William of Orange in Ireland, and white representing the aspiration for peace between them.
The flag was raised above the General Post Office in Dublin during the Easter Rebellion of 1916.