

Peony

- Large, tissue paper-like blossoms in late spring and early summer.
- The peony is not a native North American flower... it is native to China. But it's popularity with gardeners makes it a common sight throughout Indiana.
- The peony was adopted Indiana's state flower on March 13, 1957.