

LAZULI BUNTING

Coloring Page

Lazuli Buntings are light blue with a white underbelly with a splash of orange. They also have black tipped wings. Lazuli Buntings are found through-out western North America. Their population is wide-spread, common, and stable. Many male Lazuli Buntings have their own specific songs. Lazuli Buntings make their homes in open brush and stream side shrubs. They eat mostly seeds and insects. They migrate early in the fall.

BirdWatchingAcademy.com