

James Monroe Term of Office: 1817-1825

On April 28, 1758, James Monroe, the 5th president of the United States, was born in Westmoreland County, Virginia. During his term, the first public high school was opened and admitted girls. He was the last of three presidents to die on the United States Independence Day, July 4. He died in New York, New York, on July 4, 1831.