

A black and white line drawing of a diverse group of people of various ages and abilities, including a man with a mustache, a woman in a wheelchair, and a person on a skateboard, all smiling and interacting. Small hearts are scattered around them, symbolizing love and acceptance.