

Dogwood

- The flowering dogwood is a popular ornamental tree.
- it blooms in March and April (June further north).
- Blossoms are followed by red berries in the autumn which serve as food for wildlife.
- made the state flower of North Carolina in 1941.