

Cars Don't Need Gas!

Electric vehicles run on electricity instead of gasoline. There are a lot of different types of electric cars, but they all need to be plugged in to charge their batteries. People have battery chargers at their homes, and they are all around town.