

Did you know? In protest of the king's absolute power, Parisians stormed the royal prison (Bastille) on July 14, 1789, thus setting off the French Revolution. Today, French people around the world celebrate with parades, flying the French flag, and singing "La Marseillaise."