

Daniel Boone was one of the bravest of the frontiersmen. Becoming a hunter at the age of 12, he moved westward as the frontier moved west. He died in Missouri in 1820.