

Mississippi State Marine Mammal

In 1974, the bottlenose dolphin was chosen to represent Mississippi. They are highly intelligent animals that typically live in groups about fifteen. Dolphins are carnivorous and use echolocation to find their prey. They typically reach a length somewhere between six and thirteen feet and live to up to seventeen years in the wild.

