

Hot springs, geysers, and hot rocks are geothermal features formed by heat from inside the earth.