

This bluish gray great blue heron stands motionless near the water's edge while waiting to catch its prey. This bird is about three feet tall!