

THE COLORS OF GOMBE

Young Jane Goodall spent countless hours hidden in the vegetation, observing the chimpanzees through binoculars. At first she couldn't get close enough to fully observe their behaviors, so she took detailed notes from afar.