

James K. Polk led the country through its period of greatest expansion, serving from 1845-1849.