

Komodo Dragon (Varanus komodoensis). These reptiles are the largest living lizards on earth, averaging eight-feet long and weighing 200 pounds. They are native to four southeastern

Indonesian islands in the Lesser Sunda region. They will eat just about anything and can eat eighty percent of their body weight in one meal.