

Soldiers boarded the ships and took the people back to England.