

Bald Eagle

This large bird of prey builds a huge nest in a tree near water. The eagle parents feed their young fish and meat. The bald eagle is not really bald, but has white feathers on its head and tail. The bald eagle was made the national symbol of America in 1782.