

Iris

- The iris blooms in many different colors, but it is typically the purple variety that is considered to be Tennessee's state flower.
- The iris is a perennial flower (it grows back each year).
- It was made the state flower of Tennessee in 1933.