During World War II women replaced men in the factories.