

Gold was discovered in California in 1849. People who rushed to California to make their fortunes were called Forty-niners.